The Kennel Club welcomes incoming Labour government

Following the General Election, The Kennel Club has congratulated the incoming Labour government, and Sir Keir Starmer on becoming Prime Minister, and calls for collaboration with the new government to reshape laws surrounding dog welfare, encourage responsible breeding and support owners with caring for their pets.

Last month, the dog welfare organisation launched a wide-ranging eight-point plan which highlighted the key issues facing owners and their pets, and detailed the legislative changes and alternative measures which need to be taken to better dog welfare, advocating education and behaviour change to bring about improvements.

Mark Beazley, Chief Executive at The Kennel Club, said: "The Kennel Club congratulates Sir Keir Starmer on becoming Prime Minister, and the Labour Party, who have pledged to improve animal welfare and end puppy farming and smuggling. We therefore look forward to working with the incoming Labour government to protect dog welfare, help owners provide the best care for their pets, and ensure previous obligations, such as banning cruel electric shock collars, are prioritised."

Global Canine Health Awards announce winners

Winners of the world's largest international awards recognising excellence in canine research, health and welfare, have been announced by The Kennel Club Charitable Trust.

The International Canine Health Awards, underwritten by a major gift from the international banker and philanthropist Vernon Hill, and his wife Shirley, celebrate and foster the latest scientific innovations benefitting dogs with seven award winners.

This year is the 12th iteration of the KCCT global awards, which are renowned in the veterinary field as offering generous prize money of over $180,000 (£140,000) to further the recipients' contributions to both canine medicine and One Health. The awards were presented via a virtual ceremony on Wednesday 3 July from The Kennel Club in London. This year, the magnificent trophies have been personally designed and donated by Mrs Shirley Hill.

Winners this year are a British-born professor making amazing advances in canine immunotherapies from the University of Pennsylvania; a distinguished canine genetics researcher from the University of Cambridge who is well-known to British dog breeders; a postgraduate student at the University of California, Davis, undertaking exciting work on canine brain tumours; an undergraduate veterinary student from Singapore based at the Royal Veterinary College in London who has a passion for pain control in dogs, and a UK Breed Health Co-Ordinator working to improve the health of Leonbergers. There are two Special Awards – the first to a faculty member of University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine who has dedicated a lifetime to working and service dogs on the front line and the second to the Ishikawa Veterinary Medical Association in Japan for their brave mission caring for pets affected by the devastating earthquake that struck the region in January.

Applications were judged by an eminent international panel of veterinary and scientific experts across a range of research sectors, with a focus on nominees demonstrating a commitment to the unifying One Health approach, for the benefit of both humans and dogs.

Dr Nicola Mason has been awarded a trophy and $100,000 as recipient of the highly prestigious Alan Kelly International Achievement Award.

Dr Mason's achievements in developing vaccines and cellular immunotherapies to treat dogs with cancer have been described as pioneering, and she continues to bring cellular and biological therapies that harness the power of the immune system into the canine clinic to tackle other canine disease processes such as allergy and autoimmunity. Exemplifying the One Health approach, Dr Mason's nationwide clinical trial into responses to treatment of dogs with osteosarcomas, a malignant and aggressive form of bone cancer, drew the attention of paediatric oncologists treating children with the same condition – this has led to a clinical trial currently underway to evaluate Dr Mason's vaccine approach in children with relapsed, refractory metastatic disease.

On receiving her award

Dr Mason shared: "I am absolutely delighted and extremely honoured to receive the Alan Kelly International Achievement Award for 2024. Throughout my career, I have focused on bringing the most promising immunotherapeutic advances into the canine health space, in an effort to improve canine health and welfare. The award is an extremely special endorsement of my efforts.

"Our canine companions enrich our lives beyond measure and contributing to their health and well-being continues to be an immense privilege for me. I am thrilled that my contributions have been recognised by the Kennel Club Charitable Trust and I would like to thank the selection committee and the Trust for this wonderful and deeply meaningful award."

Dr Cathryn Mellersh has been awarded a trophy and $50,000 as recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Award.

Dr Mellersh is the first person to receive two Canine Health Awards – in 2015 she was co-recipient of the International Award and this year she wins the Lifetime Achievement Award - a reflection of her sheer dedication and commitment to dog health and welfare.

Passionate to investigate the genetic basis of inherited diseases in dogs, Dr Mellersh has dedicated a lifetime to research and is widely known among dog breeders for the genetic research she has undertaken for nearly 20 years, which has led to the identification of over 30 different disease-associated variants, most of which form the basis of DNA tests that are offered globally.

While at the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center in Seattle, Washington, in the 1990s, Dr Mellersh played a leading role creating the first linkage map of the dog genome and has continued to lead in the field publishing over 130 research papers and is widely considered one of the top canine geneticists in the world. Furthermore, with many canine genetic disorders mirrored in human disease, her research team's findings can improve our understanding of human conditions as well as those that affect dogs.

Dr Mellersh shared on her achievement: "This award means a huge amount to me, and I would like to thank everyone who nominated me for it. I have been lucky enough to spend my career combining my fascination with genetics with my love of dogs, and to achieve this award, for doing a job I love so much, is fantastic. I am extremely grateful to everyone who has helped me throughout my career, including many incredible colleagues, collaborators and of course all the dog owners who have shared their dogs' stories with me. But most of all I would like to thank members of my research team, past and present, whose hard work, passion and loyalty are behind all the success stories. Together we have helped improve the genetic health of countless dogs and we should all feel very proud of that."

Daniela Jimenez

Daniela Jimenez, a current DVM/PhD student in the Veterinary Scientist Training Programme at University of California, Davis, has been awarded a trophy and $20,000 as recipient of the Postgraduate Student Inspiration Award.

Daniela, who previously completed a B.A in Biology at Washington University in St Louis, wants to pursue a career as a practicing clinical scientist focussed on comparative neuro-immuno-oncology.

Daniela is interested in the intersection of immunology, oncology and neuroscience and how immune cells can alter the progression of glioma, an aggressive brain tumour that has a median survival time of just 1.5 years in both dogs and humans. Daniela aspires to further veterinary understanding of treating canine cancer and work closely with hospitals to help patients as widely as possible.

Daniela commented: "I'm grateful and honoured to receive this prestigious award. I'm excited to build a career where I can conduct clinically relevant research that can make a positive impact in the veterinary field. This award will open up opportunities for me to ask questions and conduct research that can improve our understanding of canine brain tumours and hopefully provide treatment insights for these patients."

Hailing from Singapore, Simone Ku has been awarded a trophy and $10,000 as recipient of the Undergraduate Student Inspiration Award.

Simone is currently in her fourth year studying as a veterinary student at the Royal Veterinary College, London. Simone is on a mission to advance canine pain therapy through a holistic perspective to enhance all aspects of dog well-being.

Simone was inspired to dedicate her career to dogs after her close canine companion, Smudge, was diagnosed with Fanconi syndrome and arthritis. Simone witnessed the crucial difference a quick diagnosis and tailored medication can make to a beloved dog's quality of life. Simone secured a place on the renowned VetCompass project focussed on researching the potential uses of gabapentin, the medication that helped Smudge, which is widely used in treating humans and canines alike.

Speaking on her achievement, Simone said: "I am delighted and incredibly grateful to receive this award. It not only reaffirms my commitment to advancing canine health but also serves as a powerful endorsement of the importance of research into canine pain management, a cornerstone of compassionate care. This recognition inspires and empowers me to continue striving towards bettering the lives of our canine companions."

Sharon Springel has been awarded a trophy and £5,000 as recipient of the Breed Health Co-ordinator Award for her vital voluntary role in spearheading campaigns improving the health of Leonbergers.

Sharon has been involved in the breed for 27 years, through owning, breeding, showing and judging, and has been a member of the main committee for the Leonberger Club for seven years, and chair of the health sub-committee for more than ten years.

Under her guidance, the Leonberger Club of Great Britain has organised multiple blood sampling opportunities at club events and shows for DNA research, arranged seminars on breed relevant topics, coordinated health surveys and produced pamphlets, website data and videos, as well as new schemes for safeguarding the genetic diversity of the breed.

Sharon has encouraged the Leonberger community to participate in various international research studies.

Uniting the breed overseas she has led on an international fertility study, helped establish an international DNA bio-banking scheme and become a founding member and chair of the International Leonberger Union's first international health committee. Sharon continues to disseminate her knowledge to educate breeders worldwide through digital platforms and in-person events in an aim to increase and safeguard the breed's genetic diversity.

Sharon shared: "I am delighted to receive this prestigious award on behalf of all of my outstanding colleagues among the Breed Health Co-ordinators team. It is an often challenging role and I am gratefully inspired by their courage and dedication and I am proud to have been part of such a group." Continued >>>

A Special Award aims to recognise an exceptional activity related to the health and welfare of dogs. Recipients must demonstrate quite unique qualities to justify the recognition. This year, there are two recipients.

The first is Dr Cindy Otto, a faculty member of the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine since 1991, who was awarded a trophy and $10,000 for her pioneering work on the health and welfare of working dogs.

Cindy Otto

Dr Otto's research interests are focused on the health, genetics and behaviour of detection dogs. She joined the US Pennsylvania Urban Search and Rescue Task Force in 1994 to use her skills as an emergency and critical care veterinarian to support search dogs, and on September 11, 2001, she deployed to New York City to care for dogs at Ground Zero. As a result of this experience, she saw the need for clear scientific analysis to identify the risk factors for working dogs associated with a large-scale disaster responses and so she created the Penn Vet Working Dog Center, that not only supports the scientific research, education and training of working dogs but increases the availability of these uniquely trained dogs at times of crisis.

Embracing the concept of One Health, Dr. Otto enhances human and canine health not only through search and rescue but also law enforcement and scent detection such as narcotics and explosives and medication detection of cancer, infections, and other human, animal and environmental diseases.

Cindy shared: "It is a true honour to receive this prestigious, international, special award. I am grateful to the ICHA, Vernon and Shirley Hill, and The Kennel Club Charitable Trust, but mostly I am grateful to the amazing dogs and their human partners who have inspired me, supported me, and enriched my scientific journey as well as my life."

A second Special Award this year goes to the Ishikawa Veterinary Medical Association which has also been awarded a trophy and $10,000. After the 7.6 magnitude earthquake hit the Ishikawa Prefecture of Japan on Honshu island on January 1 2024, the Association provided rapid response, rescue, protection, and free treatment of the very many animals affected by this devastating earthquake. Between January and March this year many hundreds of dogs were treated by a team of no less than 78 volunteer veterinarians. The work is ongoing reflecting the complexity and infrastructure damage in the disaster-stricken areas.

The teams operate out of a dedicated mobile clinic and, with the cooperation of volunteer groups and local residents, have also set up a shelter where affected families can safely leave their animals and where free spay/neuter and microchipping services are provided.

The Award is made for outstanding public service to care for injured, lost and distressed dogs in the face of catastrophic disaster.

The President of the Ishikawa Veterinary Medical Association, Dr. Koichiro Miyano, said: "I believe it will take a considerable amount of time to return to our normal lives, but we would like to continue working together with the members of the Veterinary Association."

Ishikawa Veterinary Medical Association

Dr Andrew Higgins, Chairman of the International Canine Health Awards panel and trustee of The Kennel Club Charitable Trust which has run the Awards for the last 12 years, said: "We are incredibly proud to be unveiling the 2024 winners of the International Canine Health Awards. With the generous prize money from Vernon and Shirley Hill we can continue to fund vital research and ensure improvements for canine health and welfare.

"With the judging panel's focus on the One Health concept, we are pleased to recognise another incredible cohort of individuals leading the way in increasing understanding, advancing diagnosis and trailblazing treatment options for a range of medical ailments that impact both canines and humans.

"I would like to congratulate all the winners for their impressive work so far and everyone involved in the awards are excited to see what is next for these talented individuals."

Vernon Hill, renowned international banker, who together with his wife Shirley underwrites the awards, said: "Congratulations to the fantastic winners of the 2024 awards. We were very pleased to donate the prize money and trophies in recognition of the outstanding work of these motivated and dedicated individuals who are devoting their lives to our canine friends. As a global recognition, and with the focus on One Health, we are looking forward to seeing how these awards will continue to make a difference to canine and human health across the world. Thank you all."

Youngsters and their dogs returning to Rutland

The Young Kennel Club Summer Camp is returning to Rutland Showground for a week of canine camp fun.

Young dog lovers and their four-legged-friends are preparing for another fun-filled start to the summer holidays in Rutland, as the annual Young Kennel Club (YKC) Summer Camp returns to Rutland Showground, for a fourth consecutive year.

With an action-packed week of activities, training and entertainment for both youngsters and their dogs, the YKC Summer Camp will kick off on Sunday 28 July until Friday 2 August and will welcome over 80 young dog enthusiasts, alongside their canine companions.

The Young Kennel Club has been running since 1985, with the first Summer Camp taking place in 1992, and 2021 saw the Camp take up residence at the showground for the first time. This summer, the YKC will welcome back children and teenagers between the ages of seven and sixteen, offering a perfect opportunity for them to enjoy a holiday with their dogs, whilst also keeping active, joining in with social events and taking part in plenty of training activities with their four-legged friends.

The week will include the opportunity to brush up on skills across a range of dog-focused disciplines, including a competition day which is new for this year, as well as agility, hoopers, obedience and heelwork to music. There will also be an educational programme that will provide information about all things canine – from dog grooming and care, to The Kennel Club Good Citizen Dog Training scheme, as well as a packed evening schedule for the humans, with a sports night, talent night, quiz night and many more. YKC volunteers will be on hand as team leaders, which not only provides them with the invaluable developmental opportunity to put their leadership skills into practice, the younger members also benefit from being mentored by older members, who have been involved with the YKC for many years.

YKC members must have a parent or guardian on-site at all times, but all the family are welcome to enjoy the fun, with onsite activities including daily bingo, camp fun run and many more.

Helen Kerfoot, spokesperson for the Young Kennel Club said: “We are looking forward to welcoming our members to YKC Summer Camp, both new and those returning once again. It is a real highlight of the summer, and helps to equip young dog lovers with the knowledge and awareness of what it means to be a responsible dog owner.

“Of course, there will also be plenty of fun and games, and opportunities to socialise, train and compete, as well as gain lifelong friendships.”

Five inspirational breed rescue winners unveiled at Agria Welfare awards ceremony

The Kennel Club and Agria Pet Insurance have announced the five winners of the inaugural Agria Welfare awards, which celebrates the dedicated work of Kennel Club Breed Rescue organisations, as well as the rescue dogs under their care.

The awards, which were held for the first time at The Stratford Manor Hotel, in Stratford-upon-Avon, took place following the annual Kennel Club Breed Rescue Conference, and welcomed Breed Rescue co-ordinators, volunteers and dogs from all over the country. There were over 3,000 nominations recognising individuals and organisations who are going above and beyond for the health and welfare of breed rescue dogs, as well as nominations for the breed rescue dogs themselves that have overcome the odds.

Karen Green, Channel Team Manager at Agria said: "We are so proud to support the Kennel Club Breed Rescue Conference every year and sponsor the rescue pens at Crufts. This year we wanted to go a step further and launch the Agria Welfare Awards, celebrating the amazing work the Kennel Club breed rescues organisations do.

"With over 3,000 nominations our judges did an incredible job of choosing the three finalists in each category. We are delighted to be able to give our Kennel Club breed rescues the recognition they deserve."

This year's winners are:

BREED RESCUE OF THE YEAR – THE EDWARD FOUNDATION

Finalists: Border Terrier Welfare and Ridgeback Rescue.

The Edward Foundation was founded in 2011, dedicated to rescue and rehoming of Bulldogs. The judges selected the charity as the winners due to their relentless and dedicated team who are tireless in their promotion of the breed, through rescue and rehoming.

Marion Beardall, Trustee and Vice Chairwoman The Edward Foundation said: "These awards were our very first one and how delighted we were when we won Best Breed Rescue! There has been 13 years of hard work, with over 2,000 dogs and endless sleepless nights, but winning this award has made it all worthwhile.

"Agria and The Kennel Club pulled off a fab event in a great venue, and I can't wait for the next one!"

BREED RESCUE CO-ORDINATOR OF THE YEAR - MARGARITA BOOKER, FROM WEIMARANER CLUB OF GB RESCUE AND REHOMING SERVICE

Finalists: Melanie Mann, from Papillon (Butterfly Dog) Club Rescue and Shirley Hinchliffe, from Beardies In Need

The judges chose Margarita as the winner in recognition of both her dedication to Weimaraners, as well as the commitment and devotion that she has shown, not only to Weimaraner breed rescue, but also to educating prospective owners through a variety of events.

James Kelly, Show Secretary for the Weimaraner Club of GB, who received the award on behalf of Margarita, said: "Thank you to Agria and The Kennel Club for a wonderful evening, which we have thoroughly enjoyed.

"This award shows how much Margarita is appreciated, and she is thrilled to have won – and would like to acknowledge that this is for all the people who work with rescue dogs."

BREED RESCUE VOLUNTEER OF THE YEAR - EILEEN PEERS FROM BLOODHOUND RESCUE

Finalists: Dee Randle, from The Edward Foundation and Ian Tyson, from Dobermann Rescue UK and Europe

Eileen was selected as winner of the Award owing to the commitment she has shown, and the judges acknowledged that Eileen has dedicated a huge part of her life to the breed.

Eileen said: "I am absolutely delighted and thrilled. I cannot believe that I have been singled out for this honour!"

RESCUE DOG OF THE YEAR – BOB, A BEARDED COLLIE, OWNED BY LUCY ROWAN WHO ADOPTED BOB FROM BEARDIES IN NEED

Finalists: Pixel, a Papillon, from Papillon Butterfly Dog Club Rescue and Roory, a Wire Fox Terrier, from Wire Fox Terrier Association Rescue

Following the loss of his owners when he was twelve-years-old, Bob was moved from his family home to a city dog pound, and finally a foster home before being taken in by Beardies in Need. Upon arrival, he was said to be very sad, traumatised and withdrawn, due to the bewildering changes in his life and was afraid of close contact and could not play.

Thankfully, Bob has become a happy, confident, outgoing and sociable dog who enjoys walks twice a day. Those close to him say he loves “rootling in hedges, involving himself in activities and following everyone around at home and ‘helping’ with tasks in the garage. He seeks affection and never stops wagging his tail.”

A spokesperson for the Awards said: “Despite Bob’s later years and gradually deteriorating eyesight, he has made a huge leap of faith and put his trust in a new family to offer him sanctuary, love, grooming and medical care. He is a testament to the resilience of the dog and sharing his renewed zest for life has been humbling, joyful and rewarding.”

Lucy Rowan, who along with her husband has owned Bearded Collies for over 50 years, while their family’s history with the breed dates back to the late 1800s, adds: “For us, this recognition of Bob serves as a total validation of the rehoming process, the whole point of offering a home to a stranger who needs refuge and safe sanctuary.

“We would like to extend our thanks and gratitude to The Kennel Club and Agria Pet Insurance for granting Bob the honour of being the first recipient of this prestigious award – it highlights and underpins the critical importance of all re-homing organisations, the tireless effort and support required to fundraise and run them, and the incredible job they do on behalf of pets in need.

“Finally, thank you Bob, it has been our pleasure and privilege to adopt you as the latest member of our Bearded Collie family.”

SPECIAL RECOGNITION AWARD – IN MEMORY OF SONNY, THE BOXER, WHO PASSED AWAY IN JANUARY 2024, AND WAS OWNED BY RUSS AND MICHELLE ASPIN

Sonny came into Russ and Michelle Aspin’s lives ten years ago, when they made a 250-mile trip, from Accrington, to pick him up from a back garden in Scarborough. Russ soon realised, when walking Sonny, that he had never been given any basic training or boundaries, but Russ persevered, and later that year, set up the Accrington Boxer Walk, which was held around a local nature reserve known as The Coppice.

Jan Takhar, from Boxer Dog Rescue Northern England explains: “At the Accrington Boxer Walk, Sonny would welcome all dogs and owners on arrival and it was there where I met him for the first time. Any local Boxer in foster was always met by the pair there, Sonny was playful and respectful and had a calming effect.

“At the end of the walk, all attending are invited to donate to Boxer Rescue – while we clean off the slobber on our clothes and the Boxers enjoy the “pupcakes”, which are made by Russ. Photos of Sonny over the years has led to photos in our calendar, and greeting cards and newspaper stories but his legacy is his fundraising and together with Russ, they were a prolific fundraising team. In June 2020, three months into lockdown, the two of them carried out a ‘one million step challenge in three months’.

“Last summer, Sonny began to slow down a little and retired from the walk, but continued to raise the profile of Boxer dog rescue. Over his lifetime, he raised over £15,000 and, as a rescue Boxer, we couldn’t be more proud. He was unique!”

Karen Green, Channel Team Manager at Agria said: “Agria is delighted to share that we have recently acquired an acre of woodland in honour of beloved pets who have passed away. This initiative was inspired by the many sincere nominations we received for a special Boxer named Sonny. In celebration of Sonny and all the animals who enrich our lives, Agria has dedicated this acre to those who have crossed over the ‘Rainbow Bridge’.”

Russ adds: “Sonny was the epitome of exuberance, and the most loyal and loving Boxer you could ever meet. We now remember him basking in the sun or haring around with his best mate Stanley Long Legs, and all the others who have graced our days.”

Russ continues to walk kennelled Boxers, and in April organised another Accrington Boxer Walk in Sonny’s memory, raising £1,500.

Anita Tabrett, spokesperson for Kennel Club Breed Rescue, added: “We would like to congratulate all five winners, as well as our eight finalists, all of which exemplify the ethos of Kennel Club Breed Rescue and demonstrate dedication and passion towards their breeds and organisations.

“Selecting just five winners from the many inspirational entries is a difficult task, but everyone who received a nomination should be so proud of their achievements.”

“We would like to congratulate all winners and finalists”

Kennel Club Breed Rescue supports breed rescue organisations to find the right home for pedigree dogs in the UK, and rehomes approximately 10,000 dogs each year. For more information, please visit:

THE KENNEL CLUB
ASSURED BREEDERS

Find a puppy with the Assured Breeders scheme

Owners who buy from a Kennel Club assured breeder spend nearly 20% less in vet bills* compared to those who buy a dog elsewhere.

“Our dog is the light in our lives. Would always recommend a Kennel Club assured breeder.”

“I love my dog because this little bundle of fluff is the best thing that ever happened to us.”

“I love my dog because of the way he looks at me, his playful nature and his unconditional love!”

“I love my dog because she is my devoted best friend.”

For a healthy, happy puppy always buy from a Kennel Club assured breeder and do your part to help put puppy farmers out of business.
